

Cairo University
Faculty of Archaeology
Department of Egyptian Archaeology

The Legal Activities of Women in the Old Kingdom

-Study of Wills in Giza and Saqqara Area-

Thesis submitted by

Mariko SUITA

Researcher of Egyptology, Kansai University, Japan

For the Doctorate in Ancient Egyptian Archaeology

Supervised by

Prof. Dr. Salah el-Kholy
Professor of Ancient Egyptian Philology
and

Prof. Dr. Abdel Halim Nur el-Din
Professor of Ancient Egyptian Philology

2017

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am deeply grateful to Dr. Abdel Halim Nur el-Din, Department of Egyptology, Cairo University, who reviewed my thesis and gave me suggestions as supervisor. My gratitude also goes to Dr. Mohamed Salah Mohamed Ahmed el-Kholy, Department of Egyptology, Cairo University for his kind and unfailing support on my thesis as supervisor. I also thank Dr. Heba Moustafa Nouh and Dr. Adel Tohy, who reviewed my thesis.

I also thank Dr. Ola el-Aguizy, and Dr. Ahmed Galal, who gave me many useful suggestions during their stay at Kansai University.

My great thanks go to Dr. Ahmed Sayed Ahmed Shoeib, Department of Conservation, Cairo University and Dr. Adel Ibrahim Mohamed Akarish, Department of Geology, the National Research Centre. They encouraged me always during these years I prepared this thesis. Without their encouragement, this thesis would not come out.

Finally, I appreciate all people, doctors at Cairo University, Mr. Mohamed Bagdady and other members of the Administration Department of Higher Education and Research, and my family, who helped me to finish writing the thesis.

CONTENTS

Acknowledgement

Abbreviations

Introduction	1
Chapter I: Standardized Norm in Pharaonic period	8
1.1 Literature in Ancient Egypt	9
1.2 Description concerning the Woman in the Stories	11
1.2.1 “The Eloquent Peasant”	11
1.2.2 “Stories from Papyrus Westcar”	13
1.2.3 “The Two Brothers”	14
1.2.4 “The Doomed Prince”	15
1.2.5 “Truth (Maat) and Falsehood (Gereg)”	16
1.2.6 “The Report of Wenamun”	17
1.3 Expression concerning Woman	18
1.4 Summary	19
Chapter II: The Position of Women in Ancient Egyptian Society	23
2.1 The titles of Queen (female king)	25
2.2 The Titles of Queen Consorts	28
Chapter III: The Cemeteries of Giza and Saqqara in the Old Kingdom	34
3.1 Metjen (MTn)	35
3.2 Khenemti ($nmti)	37
3.3 Nekure (Ni-kAw-ra)	37
3.4 Pepi (Ppi) and Buto (Bwt)	38
3.5 Nikaankh (Ni-kA-anx)	38
3.6 Kaemnefert (KA-m-nfrt)	40
3.7 Penmeru (Pn-mrw)	43
3.8 Summary	44
Chapter IV: Studies on Wills and Law	46
4.1 Concept of Testament (imyt-pr) in Ancient Egypt	47
4.2 Analysis of Testaments	50

4.2.1 Metjen (MTn)	50
4.2.2 Khenemti ($nmti)	54
4 . 2 . 3 N e k u r e (N i - k A w - r a)	5
5
4.2.4 Pepi (Ppi) and Buto (Bwt)	58
4.2.5 Nikaankh (Ni-kA-anx)	60
4.2.5.1 Inscription	60
4.2.5.2 Description concerning the Transfer of Land that Accompanied Succession of Government Post	61
4.2.5.3 Description of the Transfer of Land concerning Return for Offering to Khenuka	67
4.2.6 Kaemnefert (KA-m-nfrt)	70
4.2.7 Standpoint of Woman in Testament	79
4.3 Summary	80
Chapter V: Analytical Study of the Wills	83
5.1 Woman's Standpoint concerning Property Transfer	84
5.2 The Will and the Law Concept in Ancient Egypt	86
5.3 Summary	89
Chapter VI: Economic and Religious Activities of Women	90
6.1 Mastaba of Penmeru	91
6.2 Content of inscription	91
6.3 Role of the Property Inheritance of Family in Testament of Penmeru	95
6.4 Summary	97
Conclusion	98
Plates	101
Lists	112
Bibliography	116