

Summary

This study addresses the sins committed by the ancient Yemeni man, and the methods followed by to atone for his sins.

The relevant study is divided into an introduction, four chapters, and a conclusion of the most important results; as follows:

Introduction: the researcher reviewed the reasons for choosing the subject, how important it is, and the most important difficulties faced during the study.

Chapter I: deals with Vocalizations function of sin and expiation in ancient Yemenite religion.

Chapter II: Kinds of sin in Including Violation of ritual purity, Dereliction of worship and The attack on the gods and their property.

Chapter III: is studying expiation in ancient Yemenite religion Including the moral expiation and the physical expiation .

Chapter IV: devoted to talk about Divine retribution in ancient Yemenite religion including Natural disasters, Curses.

Conclusion: The researcher reviewed the most important results that had been reached, List of tables, maps and illustrations, and a list of abbreviations and references Arabized and Arab and foreign countries, and scout the message.